November 13, 2014

To The Members of the U.S. Senate:

On behalf of the 14.6 million Americans whose jobs are supported by travel, we are writing to seek your support for enacting H.R. 4450/S. 2250 this year, to reauthorize the work of Brand USA to promote the United States as an international destination. By attracting more visitors, Brand USA enhances U.S. economic growth, spurs job creation and advances public diplomacy – all at no cost to federal taxpayers.

S. 2250, the Travel Promotion, Enhancement and Modernization Act of 2014, was approved by voice vote on July 23rd by the Senate Commerce Committee and identical legislation (H.R. 4450) was passed recently under suspension of the rules by the House of Representatives. We strongly support this bipartisan legislation and write to you to urge the U.S. Senate to advance the program’s reauthorization this year.

In 2010, the Congress enacted the Travel Promotion Act, to establish a public-private partnership – now called Brand USA – to help regain the U.S. share of the booming global travel market and to better communicate U.S. security policies. The cost was underwritten jointly by private sector contributions, matched by a $10 fee on visitors from Visa Waiver Program nations.

Because overseas business and leisure travel to the United States is critical to local economies across the nation, the National Travel and Tourism Strategy set an ambitious goal of attracting 100 million additional international visitors by 2021. To help realize this objective, Brand USA has forged working relationships with hundreds of communities – large and small, urban and rural – and leveraged their promotional efforts into a coherent, cost-effective and productive national marketing campaign.

During 2013, Brand USA’s worldwide marketing campaigns generated 1.1 million incremental visitors to the United States – a 2.3 percent increase that generated an additional $3.4 billion in revenues. This spending generated $7.4 billion in business sales, $3.8 billion in GDP and $2.2 billion in personal income, as well as supporting 53,000 new jobs. That equates to a remarkable return on investment of 47 to one. And all of this is already being accomplished at no expense to the U.S. taxpayer.

Travel is already America’s top services export. International visitors spent $180.7 billion in the U.S. on travel-related goods and services last year, an increase of more than nine percent over 2012. U.S. travel exports now account for over 26 percent of all U.S. service exports and nearly eight percent of total U.S. exports. On average, overseas visitors spend $4,500 per trip, yielding a travel balance of trade surplus exceeding $50 billion. Moreover, these visitors then return home to spread the word about America’s attractions and hospitality, generating goodwill for years to come.

The undersigned organizations, with representation in all 50 states, strongly urge Congress to reauthorize Brand USA (H.R. 4450/S. 2250) without delay. With Brand USA as its partner, the United States can continue to expand its share of the extraordinarily lucrative international travel market. We appreciate your support and stand ready to help in any way possible.

Sincerely,
